Tutoring Experience

With 8 years of experience in teaching IB ESS, I have worked with students from a variety of international backgrounds, helping them navigate both internal assessments and final exams. My experience has shown that individual attention and tailored study plans are crucial for success, and I make sure each student gets the support they need.

Alongside IB ESS, I have also taught IGCSE Sociology and A-Level Environmental Science, offering guidance to students in key areas such as research projects and exam preparation. I have helped students boost their performance in exams and achieve top grades, while also fostering an appreciation for the real-world applications of the material.

Throughout my tutoring career, I've seen the difference that a focused and structured approach can make. Whether I'm working with IB, IGCSE, or A-Level students, my goal is always to ensure that they not only understand the subject matter but also feel confident in their ability to apply it in different contexts.
